

Group Work Distribution

Please add each member's name and the area of the project they worked on:

Full Name	Tasks
Hugo Mahiou	• Led the development of the Jupyter Notebook / Python script, including exploratory data analysis, feature engineering, model training, comparison, and evaluation, with contributions and reviews from all team members. • Set up and organized the GitHub repository.
Elias El Ferkh	• Contributed to the Jupyter Notebook / Python script through review, debugging, validation of the exploratory analysis, and feature engineering. • Reviewed the code of the web application containing the selected Machine Learning model and its input interface. • Organized the GitHub repository.
Mayssem Saad	• Contributed to the Jupyter Notebook / Python script through review, debugging, and validation of the exploratory analysis, feature engineering, model training, comparison, and evaluation. • Developed most of the web application code integrating the selected Machine Learning model and building the user input interface. • Wrote the structured project report. • Recorded a short demonstration video of the web application running with a sample input and prediction.
Veronica Castillo	• Contributed to the Jupyter Notebook / Python script through review, debugging, validation of the exploratory analysis, and feature engineering. • Wrote the structured project report. • Recorded a short demonstration video of the web application running with a sample input and prediction.